

AQW Advisory Committees

Texas Higher Education
Coordinating Board

*Universities and Health-Related Institutions
Summer Seminar
July 18, 2018*

AQW Division Advisory Committees

- Vary in size from six to 24 members
- Include a non-voting student member
- Vary in length of term from one year to three
- Selected through a nominating process, or as directed in statute
- Meet at least one time per year, with some meeting several times
- Provide advice directly to the Coordinating Board
- Require members take a statewide perspective

UHRI Institutional Representatives Serve on Several AQW Division Committees:

- Certification Advisory Committee, Established 1975
- Family Practice Residency Advisory Committee, Established 1977
- Field of Study Advisory Committee (FOSAC), Established 2000
- Graduate Education Advisory Committee (GEAC), Established 2005
- Learning Technology Advisory Committee (LTAC), Established 1998 (as Distance Education Advisory Committee)
- Lower-Division Academic Course Guide Manual Advisory Committee (ACGM), Established 1996 (prior as an Ad Hoc Committee)
- Undergraduate Education Advisory Committee (UEAC), Established in 2006

AQW Advisory Committee webpages include information about the committee's purpose, current membership roster, agendas, and minutes

AQW Division Committees
Certification Advisory Council
Community and Technical College Leadership Council
Family Practice Residency Program Advisory Committee
Field of Study Advisory Committees
Graduate Education Advisory Committee
Learning Technology Advisory Committee
Lower-Division Academic Course Guide Manual Advisory Committee
Programs of Study Advisory Committees 📌
Undergraduate Education Advisory Committee

AQW Advisory Committees provide important advice and recommendations

- Characteristics of Graduate Degree Programs
- Family Practice Residency Program Funding
- Texas Common Core
- Low Producing Programs
- Learning Outcomes for Lower Division Courses
- Field of Study Courses

60x30TX

Texas Higher Education
Coordinating Board